

Evening and weekend appointments

The NHS isn't 9-5 anymore. Whether you need to see a GP, a nurse, or another healthcare professional, you can book appointments in the evening, or at the weekend.

You can still make appointments at your local surgery during normal working hours. But now you can also choose an evening or weekend appointment at one of five NHS sites in the area, if that is more convenient for you.

Routine and urgent appointments can be booked between 6.30pm and 10.30pm during the week, or between 8am and 10.30pm at weekends.

To request an evening or weekend appointment, simply contact your usual GP surgery in the normal way, or call the NHS 111 service.

Anyone who is medically unable to travel to one of these sites for an urgent out-of-hours appointment can be offered a home visit.
